

ABSTRACT

Megawati Barthos, 2015. Reconstruction Role of mass organization (ORMAS) in creating security and comfort in Jakarta based on Law No. 17 of 2013 about Social Organization. Problems that are examined in this dissertation is the presence of ORMAS in the State Unitary Republic of Indonesia stipulated in Law No. 17 Year 2013 about the Social Organization. Surprisingly, the government on April 20, 2012 issued Minister of Home Affairs Regulation No. 33 Year 2012 on Guidelines for Registration of Social Organizations in the Ministry of Home Affairs and Local Government. Organizations Act of 2013 was intended to strictly control community organizations, including dissolve it if it is considered contrary to the will of the government and the State. In This study, the researcher conducted a thorough research studies, especially from a legal standpoint. Research by the author included in the normative legal research and empirical research conducted not only analyze and study of material legal literature, but I also conduct research directly to the field to determine the condition of existing laws in the community in conjunction with the functions of organizations of DKI Jakarta Province. This study used two approaches, first, Socio legal research, namely the combination of legal research with social science research legal research. The research is researching the structure and legal efforts, including public's view of the law and, secondly, Legal social research, which refers to organizations function in creating security and comfort. The results showed that the presence of community organizations that exist and spread in Jakarta must be viewed as a form of community service by showing the spirit of community groups to unite in a political attachment to the law that was built for learning and public awareness. In the other hand, lack of awareness owned by members of the organization to support and realize a clean government in the province of Jakarta is an activity considered erroneous or even one of the few leaders and the public. With the weakness in the system is built to run social organization, then it is very easy to be influenced by some political parties to run in Indonesian law. Through this dissertation, the authors suggest; so that organizations can improve their performance in controlling the Jakarta provincial government policies, improve human resources in the organization, and be a connector between the aspiration of the Jakarta provincial government and urban communities Jakarta. as well as related to offenses committed several organizations in Jakarta Provincial Government is expected to have a firmness and take firm action and impose sanctions in accordance with applicable regulations.