

ABSTRACT

Momon Mulyana, 2015. The Mayor authority of Regional Government in the Local Government of Jakarta. Prof.Dr.Zudan Arif Fakrulloh, SH, MH, as the main advisor and Dr. Laode Rudita, SH.MH. Co Advisor.

Base on the act of the year 2007, no. 29 about Jakarta Regional Government as the city of the Republic of Indonesia, divided in the administration region city, it has the single autonomy in the provincial level. The implementation of regional government, the Mayor does not have the authority because the mayor itself only administrative, so that the government activities that are technical operations carried out by the regional technical institution.

This research are using two approaches. They are normative and empirical approaches. Juridical normative research is a doctrine study – doctrine or principle in the jurisprudence found in the legislation or regulation of the regions, and juridical empirical is a research that observing the facts that happen with the mayor duties in the regional government.

This research are using the theory form the state of Law, theory of the Law in Indonesia, theory of regional autonomy, theory of decentralization, theory of asymmetric decentralization, theory of Jakarta asymmetric decentralization, regional government theory, and theory of authority.

The result is the mayor of regional government in Jakarta does not have the authority because the authority itself does not exist in the regulation of regional government. There are two models of the authorities, the first One is one level model, in this model the whole affair under the authority of Jakarta provincial government carried out by one level and that is provincial level, in this model the Mayor is not required. The second model is two level models, in this level divided in to two levels, and there are the provincial authority level and administrative authority level. The affair in the provincial authority level are spatial, nature resources and environment, controlling of population and housing, transportation, tourism, industry and commerce. The affair in the administrative authority level is given by the provincial authority level, and they accomplish it simultaneously. The cooperation between the provincial authority level and administrative authority level is for the better service to the society.

The conclusion is the mayor does not have the authority in the regional government. There are two authority models, the one level model and the two level models. The two level models divided in to two authorities. First one is provincial authority, and the second is the administrative authority.